Albanian Political Leader Sends Defiant Message To Mussolini

BELGRADE, April 7.—Italian bombing planes destroyed large portions of the harbors of Durazzo, Valona and San Giovanni de Medua during the invasion of Albania today, according to dispatches from Tirana received in Belgrade today.

Huge Fleet
One hundred and sixty Italian warships, including sixteen cruisers, were reported to have taken part in the invasion.

(A Belgrade dispatch to Exchange Telegraph in London reported that King Zog of Albania had called upon the Yugoslav government for help against the invaders, but that Belgrade had refused in view of the Italo-Yugoslav treaty of friendship.

(A short wave radio station at Tirana was reported to be continually broadcasting in five languages today an appeal to Albanians to unite in resisting the Italians "to the last drop of blood.")

Albanians Defiant
The Albanian political leader, Mediphrashi, was reported to have sent a defiant message to Premier Benito Mussolini.

"You have many soldiers," the message said. "You can annihilate Albania and wipe out all our men, but you will conquer the country only over the bodies of our men, and then our women will fight."

The cabinet met at noon to discuss the critical situation. It was reported that Yugoslav official circles feared further Italian pressure on the Balkan states.

Although the government was understood to have been informed in advance of the impending Italian attack, well informed quarters indicated that the action was considered a breach of the Mediterranean status quo and, hence, of the Italo-Yugoslav friendship pact of 1937.

PA NEW OBSERVES

It is reported to Pa New that the small ledge above the transom on the front entrance to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter on Carson street has been selected by a pair of robins as their nest. No alarm clock is necessary to members of the Hunter family now as the birds start singing early in the morning; as for the past week, members have all been awakened at 7:00 or shortly after by their regular chatter.

Pa New observed a pair of black birds, much larger than crows, with feathers of a shiny semblance, similar to that of birds which dwell near water, in his rear yard Thursday afternoon. They made no noise and had long narrow beaks. In appearance they resembled a crow but on close inspection they were distinctly different. Does any person know what they were and their name?

Noting the continual gathering at the Easter carous counters of local stores, it is quite evident that the letter carriers and clerks at the local post office, are going to be busy with Easter cards. Seems that the

Dauphin Court Decision May Occasion New Tax Crisis In Pennsylvania

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 7.—Gov. Arthur H. James today appealed to the people of the state to cooperate with him in the face of a "new crisis which may soon arise in the financial affairs of this state."

"I ask a spirit of patience and forbearance, rather than recrimination and rancor," read a statement issued by the governor. "I urge the people of the state, regardless of party affiliation, to lend their heartiest support to the sometimes heart-breaking task of setting our house in order."

Court Decision Is Blow
Governor James' statement was occasioned by a decision of the Dauphin county court holding the state franchise tax unconstitutional. The decision, if upheld by the supreme court, will set the state back $12,000,000, of which approximately $2,000,000 had been anticipated for the next biennium and $21,000,000 may have to be refunded by the state to foreign corporations. The state may make the refund, if it comes to that, in tax credits.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 7.—Mrs. Minnie Kulick, 46-year-old Russellton grandmother, was jailed today on a district attorney's detainer a short time after her 19-year-old daughter's new-born baby was found dying in the woods near their home.

Shee and another daughter, aged 15, were accused of carrying the infant, a girl, into the woods and leaving her to die. The child and its mother, Sofia Kulick, were taken to Allegheny Valley hospital, Tarentum, where the baby died this morning from exposure, according to physicians.

The discovery was made after a neighbor reported she had seen Mrs. Kulick and the young aunt enter the woods about midnight. A search was started and county detectives were called in after the baby was found. The baby's grandmother and young aunt were ordered held pending completion of an investigation.

'Cash And Carry' Plan Of Neutrality Arouses Opposition In Senate

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mandatory neutrality legislation supporters opened fire in the senate today on cash and carry proposals, reportedly gaining an unexpected following.

Two days of senate foreign relations committee hearings on neutrality impelled the mandatory law forces to swing into action on the senate floor while the committee recessed over the week end. They were alarming by enticing concessions made to other groups by the cash and carry bloc, and by the statement of one of the most influential isolationists—Senator Borah (R) Idaho—that he does not believe the cash and carry plan wholly objectionable.

To Launch Attack
Consequent to these developments Senator Nye (R) North Dakota, author of the pending mandatory law, completed preparations as the senate convened today for a ranking attack on all save mandatory neutrality proposals. He started his campaign of attack on the cash and carry group before the senate met for the day, declaring to reporters:

"The supporters of cash and carry neutrality proposals would lead us inevitably into war if their law were enacted. Bernard M. Baruch in his

Italian Planes And Ships Bomb Albanian Ports

Mussolini's War Machine Launches Sudden Invasion Of Albania

CASUALTY LIST REPORTED LARGE

Albanians Reported As Resisting Invasion In Some Sections

By EDWARD STORER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, April 7.—Italian war planes and naval vessels heavily bombed Albanian ports today as Premier Benito Mussolini's powerful war machine moved across the Adriatic to invade the small trans-Adriatic nation.

Officially explained as a necessary step to protect Italians from hostile demonstrations but seen as a step to establish an Italian protectorate, the invasion of Albania was carried out by large concentrations of troops, planes and naval vessels, it was learned from reliable sources in Rome.

Large Force Invading
Radio reports picked up from Albanian stations estimated the number of Italian invading troops at 100,000 but Italian sources put the total at 50,000.

Three Albanian ports were bombed by huge tri-motored Italian planes, according to information available here. Durazzo was reported bombed seven times, Valona four times and Santa Quaranta three times.

Official Italian dispatches said Italian troops landed and fully occupied those towns, as well as San Giovanni di Medua.

An Albanian peace mission, sent to Durazzo by King Zog, conferred with the Italian commander, Gen. Guzzoni. It was understood, and certain proposals made by Zog were transmitted to Rome.

Italian planes which left Brindisi with their bomb racks heavily laden returned later in the day with empty racks.

The driver of the car, Stanley Guischart, 21, of Philadelphia, and one of the girls died instantly. The other girl, believed to be her sister, died in Cooper hospital, Camden, a short time after she reached that institution.

Although the girls were not immediately identified, police said they were residents of Pennsauken.

Became Confused
Following a preliminary investigation, authorities said Guischart stopped his car at the crossing's blinker light to permit an Atlantic City-bound express to pass. As the end of the train shot by the intersection, Guischart started up, apparently confused.

Guard Identity Of "Woman In Brown"

G-Men End Life Of Benny Dickson

Desperado Pointed Out To Officers By "Woman In Brown" Claim

DICKSON DIES IN SHOT FUSSILADE

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, April 7.—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents who last night shot and killed Benny Dickson, 27-year-old kidnaper and bank robber after trapping him outside a St. Louis hamburger stand, today guarded the identity of a mysterious "woman in brown" said to have led the desperado to his doom.

The "woman in brown" was described by a waitress in the hamburger stand where Dickson ate his last meal and her entry into the case drew a striking parallel between the fate of Dickson and that of the notorious John Dillinger, who was killed outside a Chicago movie theatre after he was pointed out to G-men by Anna Sage, famous "lady in red."

The waitress, Gloria Cambren, said the "woman in brown" was not Stella Mae Dickson, the slain desperado's blonde and slender 17-year-old wife, who was still sought, according to authorities. Mrs. Dickson was believed in hiding in St. Louis and it was expected she soon would be captured.

Not Mrs. Dickson
"This woman wasn't Mrs. Dickson," said Miss Cambren. "I know Mrs. Dickson from her pictures. This woman was dressed in brown and ate in my stand with Dickson. Just as Dickson paid the check and went out the door, another customer, a man, asked this woman: 'Was that the right man?' 'She nodded.'"

A few seconds later, Dickson was surrounded by a dozen F. B. I. agents headed by Gerald B. Norris, chief of the St. Louis unit. Norris shouted: "Stick 'em up, Dickson. We're federal agents and you're under arrest."

Dickson, who had been termed public "rat number one" by F. B. I. Chief J. Edgar Hoover, reached for one of his two revolvers, and fell dead, his body riddled by almost thirty bullets.

G-men were non-communicative about the "woman in brown" who, according to Waitress Cambren, was whisked away in a car as soon as the shooting was over.

The hunt for Dickson had led police and G-men through the Dakotas, Kansas, Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri since last August, when Dickson held up the Corn Exchange Bank at Elkhart, S. D., and escaped with more than $2,000.

DAUPHIN COURT DECISION FORECASTS STATE TAX CRISIS

ney General Claude T. Reno said would be appealed Saturday, cast gloom in administration circles. Hurdled conferences between the governor, the attorney general and the budget director followed.

Revenue Smaller

Increasing the administration's fiscal worries were indications that the revenue from the corporate net income tax, major tax of the eight emergency tax bills now in the senate for re-enactment, would fall $14,250,000 below last year's returns.

Despite the court's decision, Governor James stated he was still opposed to new taxes and announced he would attempt to further economy by reducing state expenses.

"I am still opposed to new taxes," stated the governor, "and propose to exhaust every device which ingenuity and economy can develop to avoid calling for any new tax measures."

"The budget secretary has been instructed," he added, "to make further surveys of the budget requests now before the legislature to determine whether there may not be further economies possible in the state departments."

Situation Serious
Revealing the seriousness of the situation, Governor James announced that the decision of the Dauphin county court may open a gap of many millions between proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the next biennium.

Governor James blamed the present fiscal situation on the Earle administration. "Pennsylvania," he said, "is rapidly becoming more and more aware of the desperate financial situation into which the mistakes and extravagances of the past administration have plunged her."

Appealing to the people for support, Governor James said: "The lower court's decision indicates that a new crisis may soon arise in the financial affairs of this state."

"This may well serve as grounds for renewed appeal for both the men and women of this state, as well as their representatives in the legislature... to cooperate in the fullest spirit of courage, fortitude and patience in the administration's determined effort to bring this state again to a period when we are living within our means."

Seek To Cut Extravagance
"We are making rapid strides in cutting down the extravagance to which the state government was led in recent years," Governor James added. "The mistakes embodied in the statute books constantly are rising to plague us. These mistakes we must correct as they are discovered."

The franchise tax was passed in May 1935, the legislature amending the capital stock levy, which had been in force many years, to increase the revenue from out-of-state corporations doing business within Pennsylvania.

The Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation of Wilmington, Del., entered an appeal, contending the tax violated the federal constitution. President Judge William Hargest of the Dauphin county court ruled in the company's favor, announcing he would hand down a formal opinion later, probably next week.

The state's appeal will be filed Saturday with the supreme court in Philadelphia and the case will be heard at Harrisburg during the high court's May session.

transporting Italian tanks across the Adriatic.

Report Town Destroyed
(A Belgrade dispatch reported that the northern Albanian town of San Giovanni di Medua had been completely destroyed.)

The number of casualties in the heavy bombardments, said to have been of World War proportions, could not be ascertained.

The bombing planes were supported in their raids by shelling from Italian war vessels gathered in Albanian waters, according to messages received here.

"One hundred and seventy Italian war vessels were reported in Belgrade despatches to Paris as participating in the invasion. Off Santa Quaranta there were 75, off Valona 40, off Durazzo 38, off San Giovanni di Medua 28 with ten near Bistopol."

No official explanation of the Italian invasion was given in Rome beyond the statement that it was intended to protect Italian subjects from hostile demonstrations.

But pamphlets dropped on Tirana by Italian planes said the invaders would remain for "the necessary time to restore order, justice and peace."

And Virginio Gayda, frequently a spokesman for Premier Mussolini, asserted that "Italy enters Albania without intending to exercise hard domination or conquest."

Dramatic Suddenness
The invasion began with dramatic suddenness, and according to Italian sources the Mussolinian legions at once asserted their authority and began a March toward Tirana.

Reports arriving in Rome asserted that the Italians had landed at dawn at four points—Durazzo, Valona, Santa Quaranta and San Giovanni di Medua.

According to the official Italian news agency, the landings were accomplished without incident save at the port of Durazzo, where attempted resistance by armed bands of Albanians was "eliminated."

(Reuters reports from Tirana indicated sharp fighting also occurred at the port of Valona.)

After smashing all opposition at Durazzo, it was reported, the Italian forces immediately began their trek into the interior of the country.

Italian news dispatches stated the Albanian population "behaved tranquilly and cordially" as the Italian troops marched toward their capital to bring their country under Italian rule.

(Background note: While the exact intentions of Italy in Albania are not yet clear, British authorities in London yesterday indicated belief that the Italian government, working in close harmony with Germany, is seeking to use occupation of Albania to prevent Greece, Yugoslavia and other Balkan nations from entering the anti-aggression front toward which Great Britain is working.)

It was announced that 400 war planes attached to Italy's air squadron "A" were flying over Albania with orders not to bomb populated centers in order to "save casualties among civilians."

FIRE BRINGS APPEAL
The City Rescue Mission appealed for more men's and boys' clothing today as a result of a fire which damaged a supply on hand last night. The blaze consumed a supply in its fumigating tank and the estimated loss was $100.

spirit of Easter is as strong, if not more than ever, which indeed is very commendable.

These are the days the women folks look forward to Sunday with apprehension. Many of them have purchased new spring outfits, and of course if the weather is nasty they will have to bury them under Winter's furs and heavy coats. Of course there will always be the darling type who will risk influenza or pneumonia so that they can spurge out in their Easter finery, even if it isn't warm enough. So Pa Newc is hoping with all the ladies that Sunday will be bright and warm.

Postmaster Richard A. Steen states that the mail for dispatch and delivery, at the local office, has been very heavy throughout this week, which includes Easter greeting cards, Easter eggs, and parcel post in general. A number of the regular force are on the sick list.

Easter week end, while not providing the huge traffic that some holidays occasion, will doubtless bring a lot of additional traffic, due to the Perry highway detour through this city. New Castle drivers will do well to aim to use some of the other streets than those included in the detour route if they desire to aid in eliminating congestion.

VIGOROUS WAR ON CRIME NECESSARY

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK MURPHY was on sound footing when, in addressing a group of policemen from various states who had completed a special course at the F. B. I. school in Washington, he told them they could and should make war on crime vigorously without endangering America's individual liberties.

Director J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F. B. I. in Mr. Murphy's own Department of Justice, has seen to it that kidnappings have been practically eliminated in this country, and that bank robberies have been cut 80 per cent since the F. B. I. received jurisdiction in such cases. Crime is still a major problem of the nation, with 1,430,000 serious offenses last year, including 12,000 killings and 297,000 burglaries—an average of 3927 major crimes a day.

Yet there is no plausible evidence that America's big crime toll is due in any measurable extent to our traditions of personal liberties, while it police officers everywhere had as much encouragement, authority and freedom from higher-up interference as Director Hoover's famed G-Men, local crimes could be curtailed just as he has reduced violations of federal statutes.

Our national liberties are not endangered by any honest law-enforcement efforts. Criminals are persons who have interpreted liberties in terms of license.

U. S. TIGHTENS UP

The War Department is now reported finger-printing all its employees. Already 30,000 of the 70,000 civilian employees of the department have recorded their prints, and all but temporary unskilled help will soon be included.

There have been in the past many instances where employees of the War and Navy Departments turned out to be not only aliens, but even men definitely unfriendly to the government they were "serving."

The business of finger-printing them will not weed out all undesirable, but it ought to get some, and should help in locating others in the future.

Even civilian workers about arsenals, the Canal Zone, air bases, and coast fortifications, to say nothing of those working in the department at Washington, ought to be of unquestioned loyalty.

Any government which permits any other condition is not being liberal, but stupid.

PRINCIPLE RATHER THAN REVENUE

In adopting the house bill for reciprocal taxation of federal and state employees' salaries the senate has wisely attached an amendment against making it retroactive.

While it was not the purpose of the house to tax salaries, hitherto exempt, for past years, the necessity for such a safeguard was shown following last year's Supreme Court decision validating the taxing of salaries paid by certain state agencies in the hitherto "twilight zone."

Doubtless the amendment will be accepted, thus insuring final enactment. But this legislation should be recognized for what it is: not a measure that will tap a new rich source of revenue and help to hold down the deficit, but one ordaining the sound principle of no special tax privileges for any class.

It is figured that 90 per cent of public employees receive less than $2500. The taxable salaries are not expected to yield more than $16,000,000 a year.

As for the proposed taxation of government securities, now exempt, the treasury would have to wait a long time before realizing substantial benefits, since bonds already issued would not be affected. But this reform, whether instituted by statute or by constitutional amendment, would embody the same principle of equal taxation for all.

THE WILLIAM CROOKS

Seventy-eight years ago the William Crooks was put together in Paterson, New Jersey. If anything can prove the comparative youth of the United States, this locomotive is equal to the job.

We are prone to consider the Civil War as a very long time ago, something about as remote as the Wars of the Roses are to Great Britain. But when the war between the states was at its height, before the North proved its supremacy, the William Crooks was in service traveling between St. Paul and St. Anthony. St. Anthony is now Minneapolis and the ten-mile run has shrunk to nothing. This relic of a past which Americans regard as a part of the Dark Ages is still on wheels, still capable of a thirty-mile-an-hour run, the William Crooks came back to Paterson under its own steam on its way to the World's Fair where it will prove that the United States is still a baby nation.

This veteran of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad, now the Great Northern, has seen a great part of American history. It watched the growth of a nation, found itself out-moded, went into retirement and now emerges sound in wheel and tire box to mark an epoch in mechanical development.

But any antique engine which can travel 1,300 miles on its own power is not so very old. It looks strange beside a modern streamlined train. It never understood or carried the miracle of electricity. But it still carries memories of Grant and Lee and Lincoln.

One question remains a mystery. Nowhere have we seen any mention of the man for whom the William Crooks was named. Was he the engineer? Was he important in railroading at the time of the Civil War? Surely he deserves some mention now that his namesake is back in the public eye.

MOST YOUTHS GOOD CITIZENS

AS I MEET with groups of the rank and file of youth in various places, speak before their high school assemblies, see them moving so orderly about the halls, leading their own groups at school church and elsewhere, and participating in the government of their own school, I am inspired. I like their poise, their self-control, their forceful speech, their initiative and their sense of responsibility.

But not all youth today is like that, especially when away from the school premises. At least a few, and often from the so-called better homes, lack self-control and consideration for the rights of others. A very small few, alas! are vandals and hoodlums. And on their account the majority of youth must suffer humiliation, even popular rebuke by adults.

School Wrongly Blamed

Often, too, the school is blamed for the delinquency and crime of the few youth of high school age who never learned the alphabet of citizenship at home. Here I wish I might prevail upon my friend, the news writer, to desist from the usual practice of tying up the names of hoodlums and vandals and other delinquent youths who commit misdemeanors and crimes at night away from the school, with the high school they attend by day. For example, "Last night three students from X high school . . ."

The impression such news items gives is that the school officials were responsible for the reported offenses. Of course, this is unfair to the school and to the rank and file, the fine students at the school; and it hardly is the truth.

With Home Address

For justice and accuracy, the names of the youthful offenders should, as a rule, be connected only with their home addresses and the names of parents who are responsible—not the school. And when we parents send better citizens from our homes to the school, it will build them into still better citizens. But why should we except the school to make good citizens of the material it often gets from "good" homes?

You probably read about that group of hoodlums in a high school who so bedeviled the principal that he finally committed suicide. One news report alleged that among the gang was the son of a public official, all presumably were from "good" homes.

Also you may have read of two boys, also from "good" homes, who carried a bag of dynamite endangering 1,500 high school students and teachers in another city.

Common Complaint

In almost any drug store in a well-to-do area you can hear it said, "I almost hate to see boys from 8 to 14 come in here unaccompanied by adults, they so often steal or handle merchandise roughly."

Can any other nation boast of so much vandalism by youth? Is there any other nation in the world with so many child experts who so long and consistently have been leading parents to believe they should not restrain their children during the early years, "lest they harm their personalities?"

Let us remember that the children of the most influential parents of any community set the standards of conduct for all the children of that community. They are most responsible, therefore, for their crime or good citizenship.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

RETORT COURTEOUS

Californians are good advertisers. They exaggerate at times when they are set for "full steam ahead," and they possess an imagination only equalled by Baron Munchausen.

Unfortunately, they have advertised too much and have thereby suggested to the idle of America that there is no want of anything in California, and that dollars may be picked up anywhere within the borders of the State.

Just as an example of the boastfulness of the native Californian, a tourist was enjoying the wonders of the state as pointed out by a native. "What beautiful grapefruit," he said as they passed through a grove of citrus trees.

"Oh, these lemons are a bit small owing to a comparatively bad season," explained the Californian.

"What are those enormous blossoms?" questioned the tourist a little farther on.

"Just a patch of dandelions," answered the guide.

Presently they reached the Sacramento River.

"Ah," said the tourist, "someone's radiator is leaking."

Is there anything too hard for me? Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the son. —Jer. 32:27; John 14:13.

Hints On Etiquette

It is courteous as well as considerate to notify your family or boarding-house keeper if you are compelled to be late for a meal. Try to give some idea, also, at what time you may be expected.

When a big shot believes in obeying the will of the people, it means the majority hasn't yet decided against him.

Good Taste

Take care that you do not hang your pictures too high. They should be grouped with your furniture and made a part of the whole by placing them low enough to meet the level of the eyes of a person of moderate height.

Your living room should not be decorated with likenesses of the members of your family. These will be more appropriately hung in your upstairs rooms. Of course, an interesting oil painting would be an exception to this rule as its decorative value would be an asset to any room.

Plain frames for your pictures are in better taste than those of elaborate design. A frame must never be so emphatic that it distracts attention from the picture within it. Most pictures (except those requiring forward tilting to catch the light) look best when hung flat against the wall. Fasten the wire on the back of the frame near the top instead of the middle.

Reader's Question Answered Dear Miss Markel—Just how is asparagus eaten? Is it proper to take it in the fingers? NICK.

Answer—If there is no sauce on the asparagus, you may take the ends in your fingers and eat it, after breaking off the tip and eating it with the fork. Of course, you must never take a long stalk in your hand and hold it in midair.

Why wish for the privilege of living your past life again? You begin a new one every morning.

Hitler Has Eyes On Patagonia
May Seize Island Of Argentine
Idea Sounds Wild? But It Isn't

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Reports that Herr Hitler is thinking of a German grab of Patagonia from the Argentine Republic, not some time in the indefinite future but pretty soon, sound rather wild. Nevertheless, the fact that arrests of suspected plotters have been made in the Argentine capital of Buenos Aires indicate that the government there takes the situation seriously.

Nor it is to be forgotten that President Vargas of Brazil did have to put down a recent Nazi uprising in his realm, and that certainly was no pipe dream, for it involved considerable loss of life. Chile also had a Nazi-Fascist revolt to quell not long ago. That, too, was the real thing. Consequently, Argentine rumors don't sound so altogether improbable. President Ortiz's regime in Buenos Aires is investigating, anyway. It doesn't pooh-pooh the scare.

That Hitler plans an early invasion of South America with forces from Germany itself is, of course, too ridiculous an idea for even him to entertain. However, the Fatherland has formidable concentrations of already-resident Germans, especially in southern Brazil and the Argentine. They haven't been locally assimilated, but are as German as they were when their initial settlers first arrived. That these folks think they might be able to gain control is not so crazy a notion. Maybe they couldn't do it on any country-wide scale, but undoubtedly they could make a deal of trouble in spots.

Anyhow, this Patagonian story has given Chief Laurence Duggan of the State Department's division of Latin American affairs something to think about.

Patagonia A Queer Place

Patagonia is a queer place. The Argentine Republic is about one-third the size of the United States, and Patagonia (the southern end of it) has approximately the area of New England. It extends westward to the Andes and southerly to Cape Horn. Its population is a scant 75,000 to 80,000. It has a few little ports scattered along the Atlantic coast. Inland it's a darned sight wilder than ever our wild west was in its wildest days.

Away down at its southern tip, on Tierra del Fuego, is an Argentine convict settlement called Ushuaia. I can't find it on any map. I'd prefer not to be marooned there.

Patagonia is described as very cold. It isn't. It has a vicious climate—raw, but the thermometer doesn't go very low.

The back country (flat as a pancake up to the Andean foothills) is unproductive as to crops. It will support cattle skimpily; sheep, closer grazers, a bit better. Essentially it's a sheep region, though none too good. Its coastal towns pack meat on a small scale.

One thing it's got—some oil. In the province of Rivadavia it doesn't produce liberally, but it produces some.

That's about all that Patagonia is good for. Its too remote even to be a military jumping-off place. It isn't worth shucks to live in. It does have a little wild game—guanacos. A guanaco is a wild llama. A llama is a domestic animal. A guanaco is the same critter in its wild state. Guanacos are hunted in Patagonia with cars. The autolists run 'em down.

The Red Revolt

Just after the world war there was a soviet rebellion in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The Argentines liked it, with a loss of about 1,000 lives in B. A.

They they scooped in the soviet rebels and started them, on transports, for the convict settlement at Ushuaia. But it quickly became apparent that Ushuaia would be swamped. So the government unloaded the transportees, here and there, on the Patagonian coast.

The transportees, organizing, swooped down on the government's coastal towns and looted them. The government hadn't the financial resources to resist.

But, even if it did, the rebels grabbed their plunder and retreated into the Andes. That thing hangs on to this day.

This work is being done, in my estimation very satisfactorily and when completed will greatly beautify this part of the road. I sincerely hope that you will view this improvement personally and give credit where credit is due.

MEMORIES

In all that life apparently bestows
On any man, the greatest or the least,
There is the morning beauty of the rose,
The peace and love that mark the evening feast.

He may to fame and fortune give his years
But winning both will still have need of these:
Devoted hearts to share his smiles and tears
A child or two to climb upon his knees.

No matter what his station or his post
Nor what his labors on this troubled earth
The memories which he will cherish most
Are born of love and fellowship and mirth.

Beaver County Relief Probe Is In Full Swing

District Attorney McCreary Promises Special Grand Jury Investigation

RELIEF AND FOOD ORDER CHISELING

(International News Service)
BEAVER Pa., April 7.—Promising a special grand jury investigation if sufficient evidence is uncovered, District Attorney Robert E. McCreary, Thursday continued his searching investigation of charges that Beaver county relief and food orders had been issued to non-existent persons.
McCreary, in a statement, revealed that certain alleged irregularities had been called to his attention by County Controller Ralph E. Bennett.

Asks For Patience
Naming no names, the district attorney asked the taxpayers to be patient while the probe is underway. He said the irregularities are in the institutional district of Beaver Co.
"The names appear to be fictitious," McCreary stated, "and it appears that relief and food orders have been issued to persons who do not exist."

Beginning Monday, Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery, certified public accountants, will begin a complete check-up on all payments, according to the district attorney. McCreary said he conferred with Judge Frank E. Reader before taking such action. He also said the court approved.

Unofficial estimates reveal that the payment losses totaled more than $2,000 but on this McCreary failed to deny or affirm.

FLOWERS MUST HAVE 11 FOOD ELEMENTS

THIS fact was proved by a leading university through a series of tests conducted with various plants. Six plants from one test are pictured at the left.

Conditions of sunlight, air, water, and temperature were identical except in the plant food furnished, one element was withheld in each case. These tests prove again that all plants need 11 vital food elements from the soil, which explains why millions of home gardeners get such exceptional results from Vigoro, the complete plant food.

Vigoro supplies the 11 vital food elements. It encourages sturdy growth and more beautiful flowers.

'Open Door' In China Closed

Secretary Hull Says U. S. Business Interests Virtually Excluded From China

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 7. — In a blistering attack, Secretary of State Cordell Hull Thursday accused Japan of closing the "open door" in Manchukuo and virtually excluding all American business enterprises from Nippon's puppet state.

Hull's renewed accusation of wholesale discriminatory practices came in reply to a statement by Senator Gerald P. Nye (R) North Dakota that American trade with Manchukuo had increased rather than decreased under Japanese domination.

Hull presented extensive figures showing that while there has been an increase in total American sales in Manchukuo in the last two years this has resulted wholly from sale of essential war supplies, such as scrap iron and steel, petroleum and cotton, with which Japan is prosecuting its war against China.

On the contrary, Hull asserted, American business men and firms operating in Manchukuo have been largely squeezed out by Japanese exchange and trade control. The sale of war supplies, he said, is an entirely abnormal matter and that Japan is purchasing through Manchukuo only those essential supplies needed to wage war, while normal American peacetime industrial products are not being purchased.

CHARLES A. BOLEN

WILLIAM E. BLANKENSTEIN

Appointment of William A. Blankenstein as district plant superintendent for New Castle and vicinity was announced today by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. He succeeds Charles A. Bolen who has been named plant supervisor for the company in Western Pennsylvania. The change became effective this week.

Mr. Blankenstein has risen through the ranks, beginning his career as an inspector in Pittsburgh in 1918. For the last several years he has been on the staff of the Bell Company's headquarters organization in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Bolen also came up through the ranks, beginning as an installer in 1910. He has had charge of the company's plant department forces here since 1926. In Pittsburgh he will assist the general plant employment supervisor.

Mr. Bolen is married and has resided on the Wilmington road. He is a member of the New Castle Kiwanis Club, Shenango Engineering Society and the Masonic Lodge in Pittsburgh.

This will be prefaced by a preparatory service beginning at 7:15.

Before Judge W. Walter Braham Thursday the case of Warren J. Reno against Joe A. Cobb, Jr., was called up for trial. The plaintiff claims damages for damage to his

Two Year Old Takes Flight In Airplane

Son Of Well Known Local Parachute Jumper Is Introduced To Air Travel

Following right in the footsteps of his father, Charles, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kirk, of Boyles avenue, was introduced to air travel with his first ride, this week at the New Castle Airport.

Tim Kirk is well known to local people as a parachute jumper and packer, who thrilled locals with his many jumps several years ago. Kirk has now quit jumping and settled down to a quiet life.

Charles, who is just two, was quite lively when he climbed aboard the four passenger Stinson cabin plane at the port and as William H. Ice, local pilot, was starting the motor, the little passenger kept mimicking by calling contact and switch off until the ship was started.

In the air, the youngster found great delight in pointing out automobiles and houses on the ground. After landing all he could say for a while was, "Daddy, more."

John Welsh Solos Airplane At Port

Goes Up For 25-Minute Solo Hop At New Castle Field On Thursday

John Welsh, well known local young man who resides on East North street, took over the controls of the student training ship of Pindley C. Wilson, at the New Castle Airport, Thursday afternoon, for his first solo hop.

Wilson gave Welsh the required eight hours of instruction, with dual controls, prior to the flight.

Taking off on the new airport runways, Welsh circled the port and flew about in the vicinity for approximately 25 minutes. At the conclusion of the flight, Welsh brought the ship for a fine landing, according to Wilson.

Knights Templar To Have Service On Easter Morn

Resurrection Service Will Be Featured By Candle
Lighting Ceremony

REV. McLEAN TO BRING MESSAGE

Members of the Masonic fraternity and their friends will assemble in the Cathedral on Lincoln avenue, Sunday morning, for the first Easter morning service of the Knights Templar, sponsored by Lawrence Commandery No. 62, and assisted by the other commanderies of the Eighth Division.

The program, starting at 8:15 o'clock, will be preceded by a short program of organ music with A. Alfred Taylor at the console of the Greer Memorial organ.

The service will be featured by splendid music, which will include numbers by the Schubert Sextette, composed of Mrs. William J. Caldwell, Mrs. Lester P. Hauschild, Mrs. George E. Strehler, Mrs. John J. McVaine, Mrs. L. Paul Friend, and Mrs. James A. Rugh, with Miss Zehner as accompanist. The Resurrection Call, "Open the Gates of the Temple," in the form of a trombone solo, will be given by W. Scott Sample, director of music of the Phoenixville high school.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Today, of course, we celebrate the Risen Christ. We glorify also in the return of Spring, with its blossoms, the leaves on the trees and the birds.

And we tell again the story of the two Marys, "Mary Magdalene and the other Mary," who went sorrowfully to grieve at the sepulchre where Jesus was buried on Friday (our Good Friday), by a large stone sealing the entrance. And when they arrived, behold, the sepulchre was open, the stone rolled away, and a bright and shining angel was sitting on the stone.

"His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow."

And he said to the women, "Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen. Come see the place where the Lord lay."

He also told them to go quickly to Galilee, where they would see Him. But as they rushed joyfully away to tell the disciples what had happened, Jesus met them, saying, "All hail! and they dropped at His feet and worshipped."

The disciples, when they heard the news, went to Galilee and awaited Jesus in a mountain. There he met them and they worshipped, but some, it is said, doubted among them Thomas. Those who profess doubt about certain things are still called "Doubting Thomases."

"And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, 'All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.'"

Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

Now, Saul (Paul), you remember, was not converted to Christianity until some time after Jesus' death, resurrection and ascension to heaven. Last week you learned how the high priest sought to slay Saul and how the disciples helped him escape. Now we find him diligently preaching the gospel in different cities.

At Antioch he spoke of John the Baptist and his work and prophecy of Jesus' coming—"there cometh one after me whose shoes I am not worthy to loose," John said. Then Saul told the story of Jesus, His death and resurrection. At Corinth he taught the redemption through belief in the death of Christ in that "He died for our sins." Likewise he preached the gospel at Philippi.

Then he went to Athens, a city where the learned men of the day met and discussed all religions and philosophies. Saul was told to wait there for two of the other disciples, and while he waited, "his spirit was stirred within him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry."

So he entered the synagogues and argued with the men there and in the market place, and finally some of the representatives of popular philosophies took him to the Areopagus, a rocky hill near the Acropolis, where they invited him to speak to them, saying, "May we know what this new doctrine whereof thou speakest is?"

This was a fine opportunity for Saul. He began his speech by saying, "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, 'To the Unknown God.' Whom, therefore, ye ignorantly worship, Him declare I unto you."

Then he went on to explain the

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."—1 Cor. 15:20.

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for April 9 is Acts 13; 1 Corinthians 15, the Golden Text being 1 Corinthians 15: 20, "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.")

The Bible tells us that when the Athenians heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; others said, "We will hear more of this matter."

So Saul departed from among them, but "certain ones clave unto him and believed."

Is it too early to talk vacation?

Vacationing comes under the head of Big Business.

More than 25,000,000 Americans vacation away from home.

Seventy per cent of this migration occurs in the summer.

Most vacationists go to the seashores or lakeshores.

Others go to the mountains and some to the deserts.

Most vacationists seek a climate change.

Some like a sedative climate, others a stimulating one.

A sedative, stable climate is good for sick or aged persons.

Clear, warm days are needed by the delicate child.

Few Americans try to improve health during vacation.

Americans have a good time on vacation and come home to rest.

Power Plant Boiler Is Given First Test

With every day bringing some new development, the power plant of the Pennsylvania Power Company at West Pittsburgh is rapidly nearing completion.

Last night, for the first time, the huge boiler was brought up to the full pressure of 900 pounds per square inch. This not only gave the boiler its first real test with steam under operating pressures, but also tested the line through which the steam passes from the boiler to the turbine throttle. Steam in this line is not only high pressure steam but is also exceedingly hot, the temperature being about 850 degrees. This temperature is not enough to impart a slight glow to the steel pipe itself, and the high temperature combined with the pressure makes the composition of the steel in the pipe as well as the fabrication of the pipe an exceedingly important phase in the construction of the plant. A twelve-inch pipe carries all of the steam from the boiler to the turbine.

The walls, almost an inch thick, are of a special strength alloy steel and all joints are carefully welded. Each weld is inspected by the state and special methods of cooling the welds gradually must be used to relieve every possibility of stress in the steel when it is subjected to full pressure.

The pipes which transmit the boiler feed water into the boiler operate under the even greater pressure of 1080 pounds per square inch; but here the temperature is only 450 degrees, with the result that a slightly thinner wall pipe is used. Out of the miles and miles of piping and tubing of various kinds used in the plant, these two short sections, totaling probably less than 300 feet in length, are just carefully constructed and designed as some of the intricate moving apparatus in the plant.

As a matter of fact, advances in metallurgy, which have made possible this high pressure, high temperature piping, are among the most important factors in the design and construction of the modern steam plant such as the one at West Pittsburgh. Up until relatively few years ago steel men could not furnish a steel which could be satisfactorily used in such extremes of temperatures and stress, thus, the steel industry contributed a very substantial part in the development of more efficient power production facilities.

With the boiler operating at full pressure for the first time last night, operating men at the plant set the safety valves, which are adjusted to operate when the pressure exceeds by a small amount the regular operating pressure of the boiler. Even here the influence of modern practice is evident, for instead of the conventional spring-operated safety valve, the valve is operated electrically. The conventional spring-operated type is also used as an added precaution and set at a point somewhat higher than the power-operated valve.

The test last night proceeded entirely without trouble and all of the apparatus in the plant necessary to operate the boiler functioned smoothly. With the operation of the boiler, literally dozens of auxiliaries must operate. Motors, with capacities ranging from fractional h. p. up to the 800 h. p. motors driving the boiler feed pumps, swing into action, tied in by delicate automatic operation to permit the maximum efficiency in the large boiler.

Rapid progress is being made in the assembly of the steel turbine, and it is expected that power will be generated for the first time within the next two weeks.

SCIENCE WORKS TO BUILD SCARLET FEVER IMMUNITY IN CHILDREN

We saw yesterday how children exposed to scarlet fever can be protected from the disease by the injection of an antitoxin. This system works fine as long as you are aware that the child has been exposed to the disease.

Science to this end, has been working on a method of treating all children so as to make them immune to scarlet fever. This is done by giving the child a series of injections which would tend to make him develop his own antitoxin in case he comes in contact with the disease.

This method is based on the theory that if we repeatedly inject small doses of the poison—the toxin produced by the bacteria that causes scarlet fever—into a person's bloodstream, his system will learn to develop its own antitoxin to neutralize the toxin.

This is done by testing the child to see whether he is susceptible to the disease or not. This test is given because some people are immune to the disease, and if they are already immune, there is no point in trying to protect him against the disease.

But if the test is positive—if it shows that the child in question would contract the disease if exposed—then a small dose of the toxin is injected into the tissues beneath the skin of the upper arm. Each dose of the toxin is about the same size—about a third of a teaspoon—but the first injection is more dilute than the succeeding injections.

Quite often, although not always, the patient develops a sore arm approximately 24 hours after the inoculation. A week after the first dose, a second is given, and in another week, a third. Each time the toxin is a little stronger, and the inoculations are given a week apart until the child has had four or five. At the end of that time, the system should be able to develop antitoxin to neutralize quite a sizeable dose of toxin.

I am not personally convinced that the results obtained are entirely satisfactory. Certainly we are taking a step in the right direction, and I know that before long this antitoxin will be developed to the point where we will know exactly what it will do. We do know it doesn't protect to the same degree as inoculations for diphtheria.

However, I think this treatment is worth while trying. So, if you consult your own doctor about it, he will likely recommend it. At least he will give you his views on it, and if he isn't convinced of its efficacy, he will tell you. For one thing, after such treatment your child will have a much less severe case of scarlet fever, if he should contract it then.

This treatment is one that hasn't received much attention from either the medical profession or from parents.

I am convinced that this treatment for scarlet fever will be taken more seriously from now on.

"Inquirer" Lauds Congressman Graham

Article Classifies Member From 26th District As "One Of The Most Conscientious"

In the issue of Tuesday, April 4, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, Congressman Louis E. Graham, of the Lawrence-Beaver-Butler district, for his attention to duty, the article follows:

Louis Edward Graham is one of the most conscientious members of the House of Representatives. The stocky Republican Congressman may be found in his seat in the center aisle from the time the chaplain opens the session until it adjourns.

Congressman Graham, representing the 26th district, including Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties, thus is carrying into the House the same qualities of grave attention and study that have marked a distinguished career as an attorney.

He is a native of New Castle, now lives in Beaver. He was district attorney of Beaver county from 1912 until 1924, special deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania from 1924 until 1927, chief legal adviser of the former 6th Federal prohibition district, 1927 until 1929, United States Attorney in Western Pennsylvania from 1930 until 1934, and special Assistant U. S. Attorney from 1934 until 1936.

A bachelor, Congressman Graham is serving his first term.

'Y' Clowns Rehearse As Circus Approaches

Even Ferdinand Struts About In Preparation For Gym
Carnival

Ferdinand has gone actor—yes, Ferdie who loves to smell the flowers.

One of the top acts of the Barn'em In & Bail'em Out' circus in the Y. M. C. A. gym April 13 and 14 will include a "Ferdinand the Bull" skit those guiding program arrangements said today. Ferdie will appear with a host of clowns.

Side-splitting entertainment, on a par with and probably better than that of last year is promised by show leaders. Last year some of the clowns acts were the biggest hits of the circus. One of them "Fireman, Save My Child," has been revamped somewhat and will be repeated again.

Four feature acts and eight individual acts will be provided by the funny men. Master clowns will be L. W. "Newt" Campbell, Archie Davis, Al Jones, John Frazier, Harold O'Brien, Frank Huffner, Howard Warnock, Albert Amodie and Frank Morella.

Republicans Plan Dinners To Hear Possibilities Of 1940

First Event Is Set For April 20

Outstanding Republicans Are Being Invited To Speak At Dinners

GOVERNOR JAMES WILL BE HEARD

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Republican members of congress, who intend to have a large voice in choosing the party's nominees in 1940, will open their once-postponed "look over the field" dinners April 20, with four guests of honor.

It will be the first of a series of dinners to which outstanding Republicans will be invited to meet their colleagues in congress. Guests at the first dinner will be Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Senator Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut and Gov. William H. Vanderbilt of Rhode Island. Each will be called on to speak on current issues.

Republicans On the March
The G. O. P. calls these dinners "Republicans on the march". Actually, they are being held so Republican congressmen can look over possibilities for the G. O. P. presidential and vice presidential nominations next year. The boys on Capitol Hill want to find out what the possibilities look like, how they talk, how they feel on public issues. The second dinner, scheduled for May, will bring three more potentialities before the G. O. P. congressmen. At that dinner, the guests of honor will include Thomas E. Dewey, the racket-busting district attorney in New York; Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio and Gov. Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania.

Other dinners will follow in the spring and fall until every possible candidate for either nomination has been reviewed. The first list of honor guests included only newcomers to the national arena but eventually all the "old-timers" will get their hour in the spotlight.

Separate Taft and Dewey
Some G. O. P. leaders, at first, wanted to invite Taft and Dewey, who now lead Republican presidential polls throughout the nation, to the same dinner. This suggestion was overruled in the interest of party harmony and to prevent personal embarrassment. As a result, Taft will speak at the first dinner, Dewey at the second.

Senator Reed and Governors Baldwin and Vanderbilt were made guests of honor because of their victories last fall. While scarcely in the presidential possibility class, all three are regarded as potentialities for the second place nomination.

The May dinner, however, will throw Dewey into the arena against two rival presidential possibilities. Both Bricker and James have their supporters, although neither had developed the strength of Dewey in national polls. Bricker really is regarded as the "dark horse" of the 1940 convention if Taft and Dewey fade.

Tells Of Problems Of School Teacher

Special To The News
NEW WILMINGTON, April 7.—"More teachers lose their jobs in schools through failing to discipline their students than through not knowing their subjects well," according to Dr. Joseph Dewey, head of the psychology and education department of Westminster college.

Among the ways, Dr. Dewey suggests, teachers make the discipline problem easy are: the teacher should not consider herself far above the level of the pupils; the teacher should maintain a calm, friendly or open-mindedness, and have a desire to understand; the teacher should be able to display a ready sense of humor of a youthful type. One of the secondary ways Dr. Dewey suggests teachers adopt in maintaining discipline is by constantly keeping her eyes moving about the classroom, to make every student feel he is an active part of the class.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 7.—Reporting out of house committee of the administration-backed bills to set up a department of commerce represents a distinct victory for the James administration. . . . The bills, which were drawn up by the department of justice, had languished in the state government committee until Governor James brought pressure to force them out.

Behind the scenes revolved an undercurrent fight around the bills, all hinging on state patronage. . . . Republican legislators in the house, knowing Governor James' great interest in the bills, hoped by holding up the bills in committee to use it as a lever with which to pry jobs out of the governor for their constituents. . . . The governor, on the other hand, knowing that once he dispensed all the patronage his hold on the legislature might become precarious, went slow on the handing out of jobs, interested first in getting his program through the general assembly.

When G. O. P. members of the state government committee threatened to hold the commerce bills in committee indefinitely, the governor clamped down on them and the bills were reported out. . . . And interestingly enough, despite all the talk to the contrary, they were reported out without amendment.

As the legislature enters its fourth month of existence, many major bills appear on the legislative agenda. . . . They include Winner's amusement tax, Gates income tax, department of commerce bills, removal of P. U. C. members for politics, registration of aliens, extension of probationary period in civil service set-up in unemployment compensation and department of public assistance, amending teachers' tenure act by creating three new types of school employee, and increasing the state's share of full time teachers' salaries.

Legislative leaders have now set Friday, May 12, as the tentative date for the adjournment of the general assembly. . . . Monday, April 3, was the deadline set for the introduction in the house of all but revenue bills.

Usually, but not always, the legislature adjourns four weeks thereafter. . . . Earlier in the session legislative leaders announced they hoped to adjourn sine die some time between the first and fifteenth of May.

The term "carpetbaggers" was used before and after the Civil War to denote promoters of wild cat banks or stocks. Their earthly possessions were contained in the carpetbags with which many times they desired to exploit.

Business Is Better Than Many Realize Asserts Roger Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright 1939—Publishers Financial Bureau

BABSON PARK, Fla., April 7.—Business today is better than the average business man thinks it is. Actually, it is fairly good. It could, of course, be better; it could also be worse. In cold figures, business is 22 per cent above a year ago and only 12 per cent under the peak of two years ago. Excepting only 1937, activity this spring is the highest for any similar season in ten years! This does not sound quite so bad as the average person has been led to believe, does it?

Just to show readers how activity in various industries contrasts with the low levels of 1938 and the good volume of 1937, here are some simple percentage comparisons:

Year 2 years ago	Year 1 year ago
Today compared with
Freight carloadings ..	+ 8% -20%
Steel operations	+70 -40
Textile activity	+36 -13
Electricity consumption ..	+11 +3
Building volume	+40 +15
Bank deposits	+10 -15
Automobile assemblies ..	+70 -23
Retail trade	+8 -5
Number of jobs	+3 -15
Farm products prices ..	-4 -26

First Quarter Gain 21 Per Cent
On New Year's Day, I predicted a 25 per cent increase for the first half of 1939—over the initial six months of 1938. The record shows the gain for the first quarter has been 21 per cent. However, I anticipated that business by Easter would have seen a slight rise over the year-end level. January business stood at 100 on the Babson chart. Since then it has marked time. February was 99, March 99.5 and April is opening at 100. In 1938 the figures were 84 in January, 81.5 in February and 81 in March.

Does the failure of business to rise since January mean that the encouraging predictions I made for the entire year should be revised downward? Definitely not! The improvement has simply been postponed by one war scare after another. Three out of every four investors, bankers, business men and merchants whom I see say, "I'm not doing anything until I see what Hitler does next." Those who seem least worried at all are Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Consumer. They keep right

BUSINESS SIGNS POINT UPWARD

1. Labor troubles dying out.
2. Political picture better.
3. No war this spring.
4. Raw materials cheap.
5. Inventories at rock bottom.
6. Profit margins good.
7. "Fear" only drawback.

on with their retail shopping despite war hysteria. They are showing more sense than most "business men".

Retail Trade Better

We should be thankful that they are! By continuing to buy, they force stores to reorder merchandise; force manufacturers to buy raw materials, and force workers to keep employed. If they were as chicken-hearted as those who are scared stiff by sensational radio and news dispatches, trade would be as low as a year ago. As it is, retail sales are relatively good. Prices are well below last Easter season; yet profit margins in many lines are better than they were even in 1937. Those businesses that are lagging are being held back by "fear"—and "fear" alone.

The pet peeve of many business men has shifted from Washington to Berlin. Some, however, are still more worried about "what Roosevelt is going to do" than "what Hitler is going to do." These men do not yet realize that the New Deal, as such, is waning. The President could not get a new anti-business law through congress with a carload of crowbars. Moreover, we may get some tax relief even if there is no real economy at this session. So the Washington angle certainly looks better.

New Farm Plan

The one unhappy factor in the outlook is the low prices of wheat, corn, cotton, citrus, dairy products and vegetables. Barring a severe drought this year, they will probably remain down—although there may be slight gains from current four-year lows. I'm not an advocate of high food costs—or any other high costs for that matter—but the farmer is entitled to a fair price for his labor just as is the union worker and the salaried employee. He may get a "break" in Secretary Wallace's new stamp method of distributing surplus farm commodities. The latest scheme sounds more practical than any experiment that has yet been tried.

Industrial raw materials are a real incentive to buyers at present prices. Those who are worried about the failure of commodity prices to rise should study what has happened in the past. The most prosperous eras in the history of the world have been in periods when commodity prices were low—and stayed low! The labor outlook is better, too. There have been less strikes so far this year than in any similar months since 1933. Inventories are down to rock bottom. Any further improvement in retail trade means that goods must be manufactured rather than taken out of stocks.

No War This Spring

Hence, I cannot understand why business men should be so worried today. The stage is set for better business. There is not going to be a general war in Europe this spring. Why stew about it? If every uncertainty in the picture caused us to hesitate and worry, we would never get anything done! "Crises" from Europe will continue, but gradually we will become immune to them. Hence, I believe that as spring works along, our business gains over a year ago should become bigger rather than smaller. So cheer up, and get your share of the greater volume of trade!

Ice Begins To Construct Big Plane Hangar

Ground Is Broken Today At New Castle Airport For New Structure

Starting work today at the New Castle Airport, a large hangar to be owned by William H. Ice, well known local pilot, was placed under construction. When completed, the new structure is reported to be large enough to house about seven or eight airplanes.

The new plane hangar is being constructed near the New Castle-New Bedford road, just adjacent to the new runways.

The hangar will be used to house the ships, belonging to Ice and other local pilots.

Until such a time as a hangar and administration building is constructed, officially, to be a part of the new airport, Ice will use his hangar to house the ship, and as a center of activities at the airport.

According to specifications for the new structure, it will be 80 by 60 feet, and will have plenty of room to house seven airplanes. A workroom as well as a supply shop will be constructed in the hangar.

Since the old hangar at the airport was torn down several years ago, local pilots have found it necessary to store their planes at various locations in other cities during inclement weather.

Findley C. Wilson, another local pilot, constructed a single plane hangar sometime ago, to house his student training ship.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Main worry and general discussion topic of most Seventh Ward residents during the past few days has been a debate question as to whether or not the old coal pile will outlast this recent cold snap, or whether the coal wagon need again be summoned.

Workmen removed the remains of a tree at the corner of Clayton and Cedar streets, Thursday. Several days ago this tree was struck by an automobile and badly damaged.

Mahoning school athletic field is being put in shape for the coming season. Just as soon as the Easter vacation period ends, Austin Combs, school coach and athletic director, plans to start the track team on their practice sessions.

Persons residing in the house next to the Cedar street sub-station have a fine lawn. To protect their lawn from persons running across, it they installed a barbed wire fence along the front Thursday.

C. E. Dungan, Newell avenue resident, reports onions and lettuce making its appearance above the ground in his garden. Dungan was one of the first persons to spare his garden in this area this year.

Edwin McBride, superintendent at the Mahoningtown post office, today reported that a large increase has been noted in the volume of mail during the past few days, undoubtedly caused by the Easter season.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Miss Emily Turner, a student at Wesleyan College, has arrived at her West Clayton street home, to spend the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Catherine Stevenson, North Ashland avenue, has returned to her home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

John Gaston, carrier for the Mahoningtown Post Office, has returned to his duties after a trip to Washington, D. C., and Harrisburg.

CMTC Quota Filled For Lawrence County

Applications Far In Excess Of The 39 Candidates Permitted For This Year

Word has been received from headquarters, Third Corps Area, U. S. Army, Baltimore, Maryland, that applications have been received from Lawrence county far in excess of the quota of 39 allotted to this county.

The local C. M. T. C. procurement committee at the same time received word that no more applications were available for this county and that all recruiting be stopped. This year, as in previous years, has shown proof that the Citizens Military Training Camps are extremely popular in Lawrence county and all other counties in the western end of the state. Efforts have been made repeatedly to get the county quota increased but without results.

Those whose applications for C. M. T. C. have been already sent in will receive all additional information and instructions directly from Army Headquarters in Baltimore, the local committee not having anything to do with the selection of the trainees.

New Wilmington Couple Married For Seventy Years

MR. AND MRS. J. E. RAMSEY

NEW WILMINGTON, April 7.—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ramsey, who reside just west of town, will celebrate their 70th wedding anniversary Monday, April 10. They were married in 1869 by the Rev. John Crumb, then pastor of the local Methodist church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey have spent their entire lives in this immediate vicinity. Mrs. Ramsey is 87 years of age, having been born at Rich Hill, November 12, 1852. Mr. Ramsey was 89 years old last February 2 was born in New Wilmington in 1850.

Both have been members of the local Methodist church, for over 70 years.

Ten children were born to the couple, six of whom are living. They have 25 grandchildren, and 26 great grandchildren. Two children died in infancy, Robert, of California, died in 1923 and Harry, of Erie died in 1937. Other children are Lew Ramsey and Mrs. J. W. Durst, both of Warren, O. Mrs. L. E. Weir, Cortland, O. Mrs. H. T. Thompson, Greenville, Frank of Sharpsburg, and Helen Ramsey who resides at home.

Mr. Ramsey's father came here from North East in 1832 and was an undertaker and a furniture dealer until his death in 1885. Mr. Ramsey then took over the business which he operated for 15 years, when he took up the painting trade. He worked actively at this trade until only a few years ago.

The couple will receive friends and neighbors Monday from three to five in the afternoon and from seven to nine in the evening.

Three Are Dead In Fire Which Destroys Home

(International News Service)

NEWARK, O., April 7.—Three members of a farm family were dead today and two were reported recovering from burns and injuries after a kerosene explosion and resulting blaze destroyed their home at near-by Wilkins Corners last night.

The dead were: John Mink, 63, owner of the farm; his three-year-old granddaughter, Leibel Maharg; and a son, Shirley Mink, 27.

Mrs. Lauvica Maharg, 34, mother of the dead child, was in a hospital recovering from burns suffered while attempting to rescue the youngster. Eight-year-old Cliff Mink, daughter of Shirley Mink, was treated for bruises after she jumped to safety from her second floor bedroom.

HUGE CASTINGS BEING INSTALLED AT PLANT HERE

against the sides of the shell, the 20-ton "spider" at the top, and the foundation castings.

Huge Casting
The new casting, which is the bottom shell, is a huge thing, is made of nickel iron and heavily reinforced to give it added strength. Having a thirty-five ton crusher pistil smashing huge chunks of limestone against its side daily is a beating that requires strength to resist and the new casting has it.

From Allentown it came to the Lehigh plant on a flat car and at the plant had to be transferred from a standard gauge car to a narrow gauge car to get it over to the crusher plant. The men at the plant transferred it as though it were a sack of cement and sent it along. The work of installing the new parts will take about four weeks, for when the time comes when those 80,000 pound castings are lowered into the pit, everything has to be exactly right. You don't toss 80,000 pounds of metal through the air any oftener than you have to.

The bolts which will hold the castings in place weigh hundreds of pounds and the wrenches which tighten the nuts on the bolts are so large they have to be handled by a block and tackle. After the nuts are started over the threads, men will tighten them on with heavy sledges.

Two Stories High
The pit in which the crusher equipment rests is about the depth of a two-story building or perhaps a little higher. When the equipment is in place the top of the unit is about level with the ground.

Limestone is transported to the top of the crusher and dropped into it. The thirty-five ton "pistil" keeps revolving around in the shell and as the stone drops down between the sides the pistil crushes it against the side of the shell and the pieces drop through to a conveyor belt.

Mr. Roberts, the erection engineer of the Traylor Engineering company is a man of wide experience. Recently he returned from a six months job in Siberia. He will be here until the new equipment is installed.

Gary Cooper's Vacation Proves Busman's Holiday

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, April 7.—Gary Cooper found his vacation trip to Sun Valley, Idaho, a busman's holiday.

Having completed "Beau Geste" for Paramount, Gary went north for a good rest before beginning "The Real Glory" for Samuel Goldwyn. He wanted to get far away from Hollywood and all that pertains to it.

Gary hardly had got himself settled when along came the "Stanley and Livingstone" company from 20th Century-Fox. Director Henry King had brought along Spencer Tracy, Walter Brennan and a host of others.

Every day Gary visited the location camp. One day he stayed all day. That's the way he spent his holiday. Now he's back in town.

He says: "The next time I plan a rest maybe I'd better stay right in Hollywood and save money and traveling time."

With "The Real Glory" slated to go before the camera within two weeks, one of the studio's main problems over the picture has been solved. It is a story of the Philippines 30 years ago and a company of constabulary was needed.

Obviously training 150 Filipinos to drill properly would require considerable time and money. The necessity was obviated when a fraternal group of Filipinos at Delano, Cal., with a drill team of 150 men, heard of the requirements, hid themselves to Hollywood in three buses and showed what they could do. They got the job.

You see how beneficial a man's hobby can be as "Angels Making Music," Jascia Heifetz's first picture, begins at Goldwyn's.

The man in question is Peter Meremblum, retired concert violinist and head of the violin department at University of Southern California. During the past two years he has assembled a children's symphony orchestra of 45 pieces. The children range in age from 8 to 14. Most of them come from families of very moderate means. Some of their instruments cost only a few dollars. But, what music! They will play in the picture. In the picture Walter Brennan, that very fine actor, will portray a part similar to Meremblum's in real life.

Beaver Townships

BOYS' 4-H CLUB

Big Beaver Township Boys' 4-H club met and organized a pig club. They will have a meeting once a month. The first one was held at the home of Paul and Leland McCullough and the next meeting for the group is planned for Friday evening, April 28, at the home of Wayne, Ralph and Bobby McAnis. Pigs will be purchased and each boy will have his own pig to care for and keep records of. The boys are much interested in the project and are off to a good start again this year. Last year this same group had the raising of pigs for their project.

Thomas McCullough was chosen their local leader and officers elected were: Wayne McAnis, president; Pat McCready, vice president and game leader; Calvin McCready, secretary; Robert McAnis, news reporter.

GRANGE TO MEET

A special Easter message will be brought by Rev. W. W. Willis at the lecture hour at the next regular meeting of Big Beaver grange Tuesday evening, April 11. Special musical numbers will be rendered. A large crowd of grangers are expected to attend.

At the last meeting, "Recreation for the Farm Family" was the theme for the program. W. G. Shannon and J. W. Bronson responded with talks on the subject and special music was rendered by the McCullough family. Mrs. Chester McCready gave a splendid report of her recent trip to Florida.

Big Beaver juvenile grange meets at the same hour, 8 o'clock, with Mrs. W. H. McCullough and Mrs. Ed Kennedy, matrons. They will join the subordinate group for the lecture hour.

Dates for special grange gatherings at hand are as follows: Subordinate, Neighborhood Night program, April 11, at Plaingrove. The third in the series will be at Willard on April 25.

Young people's meetings, April 14. There are three group meetings, same evening, four granges to a group. Place of meeting for the western group will be at the Westfield grange. Westfield and North Beaver granges will serve lunch and the program will be presented by Big Beaver and Mahoning Valley.

The first in a series of eight juvenile grange neighborhood programs will be held at the Westfield grange hall Monday evening, April 17. Wilmington juveniles presenting the program.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING The annual congregational meeting and dinner was held at the Rocky Spring U. P. church Monday evening. All the officers who served the past year in both church and Sunday school were re-elected, except the naming of a new assistant secretary for the Sunday school. Miss Elizabeth McCready was elected in place of Erdean Gealy, who recently entered the training school for nurses at Columbia hospital, Wilkesburg.

Reports were heard from all the treasurers of the various departments. Special work for improvement of church property will be repairs on the church steeple and beautifying the church grounds.

EASTER CANTATA

"King of Glory," a special Easter cantata, will be presented by the Rocky Spring U. P. church choir Sunday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock in the church auditorium. Charles Lober of East Palestine, O., is the choir director.

BIG BEAVER TOWNSHIPS NOTES Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs.

Clair Conley of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Conley will be remembered as Miss Margaret Wright, formerly of Big Beaver township and New Galliee.

Mrs. Theodore Miller and baby son have been discharged from the Ellwood City hospital and are at the home of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Wilson in Big Beaver township, near Wampum.

William M. Davidson, Sr., of Little Beaver township was admitted to the Jameson hospital on Saturday for observation and treatment.

Miss Gladys McAnis of Big Beaver has been quite ill the past week due to grip and cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins and family have moved to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Russell in Little Beaver township, where they plan to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schmoll moved this week to their new home, recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins.

The United Presbyterian prayer group met Tuesday morning, April 4, at the Rocky Spring church with Mrs. Carl Flower presiding. Special vocal selections were rendered. The next meeting will be at Darlington in May.

Miss Nellie Hughes of Bridgeport, O., and Miss Joan Wallace of Pittsburgh are guests this week at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. George Haggerty in Little Beaver.

Mayer Received Largest Income

Listed As Receiving Approximately $1,300,000 During Year 1937

PAID ALMOST MILLION IN TAX

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The house ways and means committee today made public the treasury's annual "pink slip" salary list, studied by golden incomes of movie stars whose salaries rise and fall as they draw money into the box office.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau submitted bulky books containing 1,132 typewritten pages. The list included salaries, bonus and commission paid to corporation executives, chiefly for the year 1937.

Largest income reported was that of Louis B. Mayer, who has been heralded as a business genius because of the huge success of the big movie combination of Loew's, Inc., and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Mayer was listed as having received $1,161,750 from Loew's and $134,750 from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The lion's share of the money went to Uncle Sam in income taxes. Approximate federal income tax on the amount is $910,000. In addition Mayer paid a state income tax.

Many big corporations reported scores of persons drawing $15,000 a year or more. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer paid 240 employees more than $15,000; E. I. DuPont de Nemours company paid 196 and Metropolitan Life Insurance company paid 167 more than $15,000 in one year.

The list included many "big names," including Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president. She received $16,587 for her newspaper writings.

No Standout Teams In National League MacPhail Declares

No Team In League Can Compare With New York Yanks, Dodger Owner Says

Cannot See Pirates, Giants, Reds As Potential Champions In Senior Loop

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 7.—"There isn't one team of championship class in the whole National league."

Sounds like a blast from an American leaguer, doesn't it? As a matter of fact, it comes straight from Larry MacPhail, dynamic head man of the Brooklyn Dodgers, just back from a swing through the training camps.

"No use trying to kid anybody," he continued in his staccato style. "We haven't got a single stand-out club with the class of the Yanks. All our clubs have plenty of weak spots. That's why I say any club, except the Phillies, who are hopeless, can win the National league pennant this year."

Pitching and Breaks

"Mark my words, pitching and the breaks will decide the pennant." You may think the man who brought night baseball and circus stunts to the majors may be tactless, and his brother officials and club owners may think he's a pain in the neck, but everybody must admit he's honest and one of the few men in sports willing to call his shots.

Therefore, we had no hesitancy in asking him to call the turn on all the clubs and he was less hesitant in obliging as follows:

"The Reds?" Overrated. They've got pitching and Lombardi. McCormick probably won't have another year at first like he had last year. Second base pair not so hot. If they win, it will be because of superior pitching and a large shot of luck.

Rubin Has Not Forgotten K. O.

Has Abandoned Play-Boy Role And Trains Faithfully Every Day

Judging from the way Mickie Rubin is training for his fight with Manny Amado, Portuguese, Monday night in the Arena, his play-boy days are over and he means to make good in his chosen line of endeavor which is amateur pugilism.

He executed an about face after having been skidded nose-upon-canvas the night he engaged Dave Nemeih, a heavily-muscled chap from Youngstown. Rubin imagined Dave was a push-over and got pushed-over himself.

"Never again" moaned Rubin, following that fight, and since then he has not failed to put in some heavy training licks and hopes to be in the "pink" when Monday night arrives.

Amado has not fought here. What he has remains to be seen. However, it isn't likely that Tommy Leach, matchmaker, booked him "sight unseen." He must have something, otherwise he would not have been matched with Rubin.

They're doctored for three, two-minute rounds. In some scraps Rubin has fought as much in three rounds as some amateurs have fought in several fights. He's vicious and when stacked against an aggressor opponent, thrills ensue.

Frankie Moran, a local feather-weight, has fought repeatedly here. He has won more than he has lost. His ability to hit with either hand has given him an edge in some fights.

Brooks Is Slugger

His opponent is Frankie Stovich of Youngstown, and according to Moran's friends, Frankie should knock him out. Stovich is in Mike Conde's class, yet Mike proved a kyo victim to Moran one week ago in Alliance.

Chuck Arkett, veteran of many gruelling amateur fighters, is an "in-and-out" but when "right," a tough chap to beat. He has been mated with Mickie McCoy, Youngstown, who will appear here the first time Monday.

Babe Retardo of Ellwood vs. Mickie O'Day of Youngstown. Babe beat one of the Sweeney boys of Pittsburgh, in an exciting scrap in Ellwood City.

Buck Chambers of West Pittsburg vs. Chuck Swatvik of New Castle. They are hot rivals and there'll be a knockout in all probability in their scrap.

Larry Regan of Butler vs. Johnny Kovash, Youngstown. Both are novice middleweights, not scientific but will depend upon "haymakers" to win.

Hal Brooks, New Castle vs. Harold Patterson, Youngstown. Brooks is not a good boxer but likes to stand toe to toe until either he or a foe drops.

All the Lawrence county fighters, excepting Retardo, are training in the Jefferson A. C. Some prepare for their battles in the afternoon and others at night.

Paul Waner Is Weakening, May Sign Contract

Pirate Star Outfielder Says "I'll Be In Lineup Opening Day If They Need Me"

(International News Service)

SARASOTA, Fla., April 7.—Paul Waner expects to be in Pittsburgh's lineup in the opening game of the season.

This was the assertion today of the National League's only major holdout, thus breaking an impasse which was slowly threatening to become an irreconcilable barrier between the outfielder and the club's management.

"I don't see why I won't be in there at the opener," Waner declared, "unless the club has come up with some one who is better than me."

"I think that the club will still find me useful. The slump of last season was only temporary. I expect to go into a huddle with President William Benswanger shortly and he won't find me very stubborn in coming to terms."

Benswanger is the club's president.

Grommes and John Uram garnered the Y points, defeating "Bus" Reiber and Paul Eagan, respectively.

MEET NILES TONIGHT

The New Castle Rifle club will have a league shoot at the Cathedral range tonight, meeting the Niles, Ohio, team at 7:30 o'clock. The New Castle team has won the second-half of the Penn.-Ohio league. Rambling Around World Of Sports high school's football team branches out in the grid world next fall. The Cement City gridders are booked for a game with Greenville high Friday, October 6, away from home. Paul McCullough, who used to peg 'em in the American Association loop and in the majors for a while, says he is all set for one of his most successful seasons. "Mac" will hurt in the local county league and for the East Side Civics, Youngstown. Paul is one of the most popular athletes in the Ohio city. In a letter to the column proprietor, Walter S. Raskowski, one of Pitt's outstanding gridders during the past couple of seasons, says that although his football career is over, he still has two more years of studying to do before becoming a dentist. The course lasts for six years. Raskowski also says that Charles Fleming, a reserve end, is interested in a coaching job, after he receives his sheepskin, this June.

Local sport potpourri...Bessemer

Note: This is the 14th of a series of articles on major league baseball teams. Detroit Tigers—Del Baker's Detroit Tigers have been one of the finest appearing baseball outfits in the "grapefruit circuit". There is little doubt that the Motor City aggregation will fade as the tough American league race gets underway. For this reason, Detroit must be conceded a chance to subduing the Yanks.

The order is a stiff team to beat. A staff, including such pitchers as Tommy Bridges, George Gill, Roxie Lawson, Vernon Kennedy and Harry Eisenstat isn't to be sneezed at. Don't overlook the Christmas package, Freddy Hutchinson, the coast sensation. The 19-year-old flinger has a good head and good control. A little help from him would surely be welcomed by Baker. Then there is Paul "Dizzy" Trout, a 22-game winner in the Texas loop. He has shown plenty of stuff and has a better chance of hanging on than Hutchinson. Alton Benton, Jimmy Lynn, Archie McKain, Bob Harris and George Coffman are around, too. Behind the platter, the Tigers have Rudy York, one of the heaviest hitters in the game. George Tebbetts will share the catching.

With Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehring serving as spearheads, Detroit boasts the greatest infield in the American. Greenberg, whose hitting needs no introduction, and the smooth Gehring, represent a million dollars worth of baseball talent. Gehring is easily the greatest second sacker in the business. Pinky Higgins, at third, and Rogell Croucher or Perry at short, round-up the "inner" department. Greenberg, Higgins and Gehring pasted out marks of better than 300 last season. The outfield, like the infield, is stacked high with dynamite. Pete Fox, Roy Cullenbine, Chet Laabs, Dixie Walker and a pair of rookies, Barney McCoskey and Frank Secory, swing wicked clubs. Cullenbine, in 25 games, worked up a 284 average while Laabs, in 64 setos, did fairly well for a newcomer.

Peering at the lineup, one doesn't have to be a magician to recognize the batting power of the Tigers. Greenberg, Gehring, Walker, York, Laabs, Cullenbine, Fox and Higgins are among the most feared stick-men in the circuit. Tebbetts, with 294, did better than average for a catcher. Billy Rogell still has a few base knocks in his hat. It's not hitting that the Tigers lack. Neither is the fielding below par, on the contrary. Pitching is the problem. With Rowe back in his old form, and help from Hutchinson or Trout, Baker may pull up to the top. Otherwise, Detroit figures to finish either third or fourth.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL

MEETING TONIGHT

Managers and officials of the junior softball league will have a meeting tonight at the "Y" at 8 o'clock. President Jack Llewellyn wants the following teams to have representatives at the meeting: Fanning, New Castle Indies, North Hill Red Caps, Nomads, Rose Bowls, Oak A. C. Richmond, Cottage Grove, Fords, Princeton, Syrian Rays, Canyon A. C. Liberty Street Sluggers, and Mahoning Red Caps.

Guldahl Will Try For Third Straight Title

Not Even Bobby Jones Could Win Three Straight National Open Titles

IS BURNING UP SOUTHERN COURSES

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 7.—When Em-prior Bobby Jones made his grand slam in 1930 by sweeping the open and amateur championships of England and America they were certain they would never see the like of him again, but there is a big, shaggy-headed guy at large now who threatens to top Jones and establish himself finally as the greatest player that ever lived. He is, of course, Ralph Guldahl, best in the business at the moment and getting better.

Even his fellow-professionals are unable to find any flaws in his game. They say he has everything, including the stamina and courage needed to come from behind, as he did in winning the Masters' Invitation at Augusta. He had to have a record-cracking 33 on the back nine to win and he got it.

Not since Jones was emperor of virtually the entire golfing world has there been a standout comparable to the powerful six-foot-plus guy, and the topoff on that is obvious. He already is being mentioned as the man the rest must beat in the national open at Philadelphia (Continued on Next Page)

Horses Arrive At Louisville For Derby Test

Start Putting Derby Candidates Through Paces At Churchill Downs

CIENCIA WILL NOT BE ELIGIBLE

By CLYDE L. REECE
International News Service Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 7.—Giving life to pre-Kentucky Derby activities at Churchill Downs, Milky Way stables today limbered up 33 crack thoroughbreds, fresh from Hot Springs and put seven of the lot, all Derby candidates, through initial paces for the classic on May 6th.

Most likely to survive the tests are no competition and on location, believed by experts to be the pair on which the stable's owner, Mrs. Ethel V. Marx, well known Chicago sports-woman, will cast her lot for Derby honors.

Others in the pack, the largest yet to arrive under a single banner, are Sports Writer, Up The Creek, Magic Key, Giles County, and Rule All, each listed for the Derby.

Trainer Roy Waldron, who last year suffered ill luck with Mountain Ridge and Tiger in the closing days of the prep, appeared eager to get his charges in the wind. Waldron watched the Tiger and Mountain Ridge fail to respond to training last year and withdrew them at the last moment.

Not Eligible

Another arrival was Willie Crump, once a noted jockey, whose tough luck with Ciencia this year was the talk of the backstretch. Crump came in with five 2-year olds, all wondrously eligible, but not Ciencia the fast little filly which topped the Santa Anita Derby earlier in the year.

Crump, handling a second string for the King Ranch of Texas, developed Ciencia and then was obliged to turn her over to the main-string in charge of Trainer Max Hirsch. Ciencia proved her worth in California and was Kentucky Derby material. It developed later that her entry blank was not received by the Downs management, thereby depriving her of a Derby spot and ruining any chances she may have had of becoming the second filly in 65 years of Downs racing to win the Derby diadem. The King Ranch contended her entry was mailed, but it didn't arrive.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Batters were hard on baseballs yesterday, 48 having been used in the Boston Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds game in Florence, S. C., following which the teams called it a day, packed their bags and journeyed to their hotels. The team quit in the eighth with the score 18 to 18, in a game fanned by a 40-mile wind. Forty six hits were made.

Lou Chiozza, outfielder and second baseman, Tom Hafe, third baseman and Tommy Padden, catcher, were optioned by the New York Giants to its Jersey City farm in the International League today. Wayne LaMaster, south paw pitcher for the Dodgers, obtained from Philadelphia last season, will undergo an operation in St. Louis for the removal of a cartilage from his left elbow.

George Blake, veteran referee, will be third man in the Los Angeles ring when Joe Louis defends the heavyweight championship against Jack Roper, April 17. Marshall Goldberg, Pitt grid star, is in Chicago, conferring with the Chicago Cardinals, professional football team, relative to an offer to play with the Cardinals next season. The Chicagoans are in the National Professional Football circuit.

Midshipman Joe Hunt, Los Angeles and David A. Marks, Memphis, have been named by the U. S. naval academy to play in the Wimbledon world tennis championships, June 26. Middles have never entered the meet before. Henry Armstrong sailed today for England where he will defend the welterweight championship against Ernie Roderick, the British champion. He will be paid $47,000 for his services. The fight will occur May 22, in London.

phia in June, when he will attempt to win the event for the third straight time.

That's simple of course—about like a midget making the All-American golfing gulping team. Not even Jones could win the open three times straight, nor could any of the rest since the game was brought in out of the cow pasture and built into this country's favorite form of hysteria. In fact, three in a row was accomplished just once, by a gent named Willie Anderson back in 1903-'05.

Naming of George Blake to referee the Joe Louis-Jack Roper title fight at Los Angeles April 17 averts possible controversy between fight commission and Louis' handlers, who had demanded Blake.

There isn't one team of championship class in the whole National League says Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers who are in the same league.

Second annual Goodall trophy tournament with a field of 15 top golf pros to be played at Fresh Meadow Country Club, Flushing, N. Y., June 1 to 4.

Henry Armstrong sails for England today.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.

There's nothing like awaking in the morning and instead of finding the birds singing the ground is covered with a soft white fluffy blanket of snow. What a cheery hello... but we are hoping with the rest of you that the next two days will be hunderings.

Today is good Friday and the day that quite a few folks follow customs... such as eating no meat... and being sure to have on hand a large supply of hot cross buns. And a custom that we Sunday to see all keep this holiday would be to attend church Sunday. If you are welcome at any church service... you owe it to yourself.

The Greater New Castle Association is now organized with permanent officers. They can really bear down to the grindstone and start the sparks flying. Looking over the list of officers and the members of the advisory council, we find the names of a great many good workers. Men who realize that this organization must succeed in order that New Castle prosper. So you and you, who are members, now is your chance to do your bit as far as work is concerned... when the word comes be ready to act. Long prosper the city of New Castle.

Taxation is a wonderful thing... without it this country would be lost... but we must keep in mind that it can be carried too far.

A letter has arrived asking why the Mayor doesn't order Parking Meters to be placed on Long Avenue. That is a question that we won't attempt to answer.

Just a few words of congratulations to Charles A. Bolen of the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Bolen has been advanced in the ranks to Pittsburgh and will now be under the title, Plant Supervisor of the Western District of Pennsylvania for the Bell Telephone Company. We wish you all the luck in the world on your new assignment and say hello to our friend "Ray" when you reach Pittsburgh. Mr. Bolen will be succeeded here by Wm. E. Blankenstein of Pittsburgh. Mr. Bolen's former position here was plant superintendent. Welcome Mr. Blankenstein to New Castle.

Ellwood Council Expects To Complete Move For Taking Over Toll Bridge

ELLWOOD CITY, April 7.—An agreement prepared by the Lawrence county commissioners, in which they consented to pay the entire cost of repairs to the Ewing Park toll bridge to put it in first class condition for traffic not to exceed a twelve ton limit providing the Ellwood Council purchase the bridge from the Commonwealth Bridge company was presented and quickly adopted by the Ellwood Council on Thursday night when they met in the council chambers of the city building for the slated April session.

A former offer of the commissioners to make repairs not to exceed $12,000 was rejected ten days ago and the local committee, after a number of conferences, received their agreement to make complete repairs to the bridge on Thursday.

No amount of money was mentioned in the agreement.

Arthur J. Howell, president of council and chairman of the committee, said they had their offer to purchase the bridge prepared and hope to be able to submit it today to the bridge company officials and are expecting an answer within 48 hours. No delay in purchasing the bridge, the offer of which has been withheld at present, is anticipated.

Robert B. Curry, fifth ward councilman, was the lone dissenter and offered a resolution that the matter of purchasing and maintaining the bridge, be placed before the voters of the boro at the public election next fall. No action was taken and the resolution was placed on file.

Legal—News—April 7, 1939.

A request from Charles Z. Bell, president of the hospital board, asking the widening of Border avenue in front of the hospital was referred to the Street committee.

The borough solicitor will investigate a paving lien assessment of $1175 against James Ross, of Wampum avenue. Ross claims his property was damaged and offered a settlement of $500.

Bordi protested that his objection to the boro paying a $90 water bill caused by damage said to have been the fault of the boro was left out of the minutes of the last meeting. His objection will be added.

Improvement from the state department of health for a sanitary sewer on Woods avenue, (New Castle road), to the boro limit will be secured by Mr. Monroe.

Three fires of small damage were reported for the month of March with firemen's services totaling $145.

Tax collections for 1937 were $39,311 and for 1938 $1,459.39.

The rules and regulations committee was authorized to have a shelter house in Ewing Park completed. Stone posts were erected some time ago and the only needed improvement is a roof.

A request for a room in the building for three or four Wednesday nights for first aid classes for P. A. foremen was referred to the rules and regulations committee with power to act.

The P. and L. E. R. R. company will be contacted to secure a right of way for a storm sewer erection between Third and Fourth streets.

It was suggested by Landi that the boro purchase a limestone crusher. He contended that the boro can purchase limestone from the Wiley Hill quarry at a 5 cent a ton royalty while at present they are paying about $2 a ton to have it delivered from out-of-town. Mr. Monroe said that was much more satisfactory for streets and that there was endless quantities of limestone at the quarry.

The approximate cost of the operation would probably equal the present cost. Other members pointed out various savings that would be afforded the boro, if they had their own crusher. The street committee and boro manager were instructed to investigate the matter completely.

Lowell W. Monroe presented his annual report for the past year and expressed his appreciation for splendid cooperation.

A large delegation of barbers appeared before Council requesting the passage of the ordinance regulating sanitation laws for barber shops. The ordinance was passed on first reading last October but never came before the board for further passage. It was brought out by Fike, Landi and Bordi that trial cases are pending in Lawrence and various other counties and that some counties have affirmed and others have rejected like ordinances and one was rejected by the state superior court on a technicality. President A. J. Howell suggested that the ordinance be passed on second reading in order that it might be nearer final passage should a favorable decision be given by the county court. This action was taken with Bordi and Caplan voting negatively.

Various notices have been received during the past year from the state health department that improvements must be made to the sewerage disposal plant. Action has, by various pretexts, been deferred by Council but can no longer be done, it was pointed out by health chairman, lawyer, solicitor, Humphrey and boro manager Monroe. It was agreed to have the health committee along with Mr. Monroe and finance chairman, Harry Caplan, contact Alex Main of this city, designer of the present system, to see if the present plant might be satisfactorily remodeled. A new plant, it was said, would cost something like 100,000.

Bids for paving Center avenue from 10th to 13th streets will be advertised and bids will also be advertised for the paving of Founmain Circle from Spring to Fountain avenue. Both have been approved by the W. P. A. and the work will be started as soon as possible.

Mr. Monroe, following numerous complaints of councilmen, said that there is 10,000 feet of bad curbing in the boro and that the project and been approved and awaited only the approval of council. As curb improvements are not essential, only the places in the worst condition will be improved at present.

Effort is being made by council to have Bridge street from the state line to Wampum avenue included as a state highway. The highway department is favorable to the action, it was said.

A resolution presented by Mr. Curry that Burgess McGilney be appointed to the playgrounds commission was unanimously passed.

Max Brounstein, developer of Ewing Heights, north of Line avenue, presented a plan of lots to the council for approval. Mr. Brounstein said that he would comply in written agreement with the boro sewer and street specifications. The plan was given to the street committee, boro solicitor and city manager for investigation. If plans are satisfactory, a special council meeting will be held within a week or so for approval.

The police committee was given authority to investigate a two-way police radio patrol system. Total fines, costs and forfeits amounted to $91 for the past month. Councilmen Greenham protested the laxity of traffic enforcement and Bordi declared that Lawrence avenue from 9th to 14th streets is being used as a speedway. Jokingly, Burgess McGilney asked the protestors for their license numbers.

Bids for public liability and property insurance will be advertised, bids for a small truck with ladder equipment were received and referred to the electric committee for a recommendation. Bids for the Cedar street sewer improvements were given to Howard Guy, Franklin Foundry, Seidel company and Blank company.
